The Company fully recognises the responsibilities and duty placed upon them to have arrangements to safeguard and promote the welfare of all students. We believe in a caring, positive, safe and stimulating environment in which students can learn and which promotes the social, physical and emotional wellbeing of each individual pupil. The Company recognises its responsibility and duty to report Child Protection concerns to the relevant Department in the Local Education Authority. The Company will ensure that all tutors are updated on Child Protection issues, as recommended in the guidance.

The Company Aims:

- To raise awareness of all tutors of the need to safeguard all children and of their responsibilities in identifying and reporting possible cases of abuse to the Company.
- To develop a structured procedure for dealing with issues arising.
- To support all students' development in ways that will foster security, confidence and independence.
- To promote safe practice.
- To develop and promote effective working relationships with other agencies involved with safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children.
- To ensure that all tutors working for the Company have been checked as to their suitability to work with children.
- To take account of and inform policy in related areas, such as anti-bullying; discipline and behaviour; health and safety; procedures for dealing with allegations against tutors and recruitment practice.

DEFINITIONS

Child abuse is taken to refer to any child of under 18 years who, through the actions of adults (with a caring role for that child) or their failure to act, has suffered or is at risk of suffering significant harm

Abuse is broadly divided into four categories: Neglect, Physical Injury, Sexual Abuse and Emotional Abuse. Brief definitions are given below.

Defining child abuse is not easy. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by knowingly not preventing harm. Children may be abused in a family, the community, an institutional setting, or more rarely by a stranger. Most young people who are abused know their abuser.

Physical Abuse: May involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning or suffocating. Also includes victims of parents suffering from Munchausen Syndrome by Proxy.

Emotional Abuse: Persistent emotional ill treatment which is likely to cause serious harm to the child's emotional development. May involve conveying to children that they are worthless, unloved, and inadequate and cause children to feel frightened, in danger, be exploited or corrupted.

Sexual Abuse: Forcing or enticing a child to take part in sexual activities, whether or not they are aware of what is happening. This would also include underage sex/consequent pregnancy.

Neglect: Persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and psychological needs likely to result in serious impairment to their health and development. May include parental failure to provide adequate food, shelter, clothing, and failure to protect from physical harm/danger. May also include neglect of child's basic emotional needs.

Company Targets

- We believe that all children have a right to be protected from harm and /or abuse
- We are aware that abuse occurs in all cultures, religions and social classes and that tutors need to be sensitive to the many differing factors which need to be taken into account depending on the child's cultural and social background.
- We recognise that a child who is abused or witnesses abuse or violence may find it difficult to develop and maintain a sense of self-worth, they may feel helpless and humiliated and may feel self blame.
- We accept that research shows that the behaviour of a child in these circumstances may range from that which is perceived as normal to that which is aggressive, disturbed or withdrawn.
- We know that it is important that there are adults who they can approach if they are worried or unhappy and that the prime concern at all times must be the welfare and safety of the child.

PROCEDURES

We ensure that:-

- All tutors have access to a copy of our Child Protection Policy and understand their responsibilities in passing concerns to the Company
- All tutors know how to respond to a child who discloses abuse.
- Incidents should be reported immediately to the Company.

CONFIDENTIALITY

We recognise that matters related to Child Protection are of a confidential nature. All tutors are aware that they cannot promise a child that they will keep certain information secret.

SAFE RECRUITMENT

- The Company operates a safe recruitment policy to ensure that all tutors are qualified and suitable as far as can be reasonably ascertained.
- Appropriate checks (ie enhanced DBS checks) are carried out on all potential tutors not already checked.

OTHER RELATED POLICIES/ INFORMATION

This policy has clear links to other policies, in particular to anti- bullying, discipline and behaviour, racial incidents and health and safety. Each of these policies is also concerned with the protection of all children in the school from various kinds of harm.

BULLYING PREVENTION POLICY

These Policies apply to Kensington & Chelsea Tutors Ltd and KCTutors Ltd hereafter known jointly as the 'Company'.

Bullying deprives people of the right to make progress and to achieve their full potential. Specifically, it deprives students of the right to an education within a safe, secure and positive environment. We will not tolerate bullying of any kind.

The Company aims to provide a caring, friendly and safe environment for all tutors and students. This is dependent on maintaining high standards of behaviour, care and control so that all our students have the right to enjoy learning free from intimidation. Our students are always treated fairly, and with respect and dignity. If bullying does occur, all students should be free to report incidents and be confident that incidents will be dealt with promptly and effectively.

In line with our Behaviour and Attendance Policy we aim to

- set the boundaries of acceptable behaviour.
- ensure the safety of students and tutors

The Company recognises the importance of maintaining good relations between tutors and students and a creative approach to teaching

The Company is alert to bullying, sexist behaviour and racial harassment.

Definition of Bullying

Bullying is identified as the systematic abuse of power by one person or a group of people over another person or group, which is deliberately intended to hurt, threaten or frighten another person or group of people. It is usually unprovoked and is often repeated and can continue for a long period of time. Bullying can include a wide range of behaviour. This may include:

- Physical aggression: hitting, kicking, pushing, taking or damaging belongings;
- Verbal: name calling, mocking of accents, sarcasm, nasty teasing or spreading rumours
- Racial: racist taunts, graffiti or gestures.
- Emotional: deliberately leaving someone out, tormenting (e.g. hiding books, threatening gestures) or ignoring someone
- Non-verbal: 'dirty' looks, gestures or staring

Why it is important to respond to bullying?

Bullying hurts. No one deserves to be a victim of bullying. Everyone has the right to be treated with respect. Anyone who is bullying needs to learn different ways of behaving.

We have a responsibility to respond promptly and effectively to issues of bullying.

We aim to uphold an anti-bullying ethos in the students' and clients' homes and in other venues where our students are taught.

All tutors and students should be made aware of the nature of bullying and our policy for dealing with bullying.

Procedures for Investigating & Dealing With Bullying

All allegations of bullying will be investigated thoroughly and sensitively. Tutors will take a calm, unemotional problem-solving approach when dealing with incidents of bullying behaviour reported by tutors, students or parents. In any incident of bullying, the Company will speak separately to the parties involved, in an attempt to get both sides of the story. Any conversations or interviews will be conducted with due regard to the rights of the students concerned. It is important to reassure students that the bullying will not get worse as a result of it being reported and it is important that the victim is not made to feel bad about reporting an incident.

If a tutor experiences bullying this should be reported to the Company immediately. Intimidating behaviour will not be tolerated in any form.

When analysing incidents of bullying behaviour, we will seek answers to questions of what, when, who and why, in a calm manner, setting an example in dealing effectively with the conflict in a nonaggressive manner.

Incidents of one-off aggression will be dealt with according to the Company's behaviour management policy. If it is concluded that a student has been engaged in bullying behaviour, it will be made clear to them to see the situation from the victim's point of view.

Students should be encouraged to report incidents of bullying in writing if they initially do not wish to talk directly to an adult. Tutors will ensure that these concerns are dealt with appropriately.

Cyber Bullying

Many children and young people now own a mobile phone and have regular access to a computer, which has given rise to a new form of bullying. Cyber bullying is becoming increasingly more prevalent and it is important that we protect children from this form of harassment.

Incidents of bullying will be pursued until the situation is resolved and everyone involved in the incident feels comfortable and able to continue their learning happily.

Causes of Social Exclusion

We have identified the following as the most common barriers to Social Inclusion:

Lack of Communication

The Company's staff are ready for consultation on all aspects of individual tuition – in person, by telephone, by letter, fax or email. In the absence of staff the office answer machine will take your details and we will respond as quickly as possible.

If you are concerned at your level of English we can usually find a language tutor or translator to help.

Discrimination

The Company is an organization which offers equal opportunities to all - students, parents and tutors - regardless of race, gender, religion, cultural heritage, age, disability, or sexual orientation, based on the guidelines set out in the new disability legislation, the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act.

Conclusion

We are conscious of the issues involved in the term “social inclusion” and the way we handle them in the daily delivery of our services. If you have any questions or worries about our services please feel ready to call us and we will do our utmost to respond.
